

GENERAL INFORMATION

Library System

Outagamie Waupaca Library System

Describe demographic, economic, and other facts about your system that influenced the development of this and other system plans.

Nine of the system's sixteen member libraries are located in communities of fewer than 3000 people; eight of those nine are in communities of fewer than 2000 people. Four libraries serve communities whose population is between 3000 and 8000. Kaukauna and Kimberly/Little Chute libraries have community populations of 15,627 and 16,991, respectively. Appleton Public Library has the largest municipal population in the system area, i.e., 72,810 people. It should be noted that two system libraries include municipal population outside of Outagamie County and Waupaca County. Appleton includes 11,080 residents of Calumet County and 1,490 residents of Winnebago County. Marion includes 26 residents of Shawano County.

According to the 2010 census, Outagamie County's population increased 9.8% since the 2000 census, which is greater than the statewide increase of 6.4%. However, Waupaca County's population only increased 1.3% during that period. Waupaca County has an older population, with 18.1% of persons 65 years and older. In Outagamie County 13.2% of the population is 65 years and older. Statewide, 13.6% of the population is 65 years or older.

Diversity within the area's population is still relatively small, with only 2.9% of Waupaca County's population and 7.4% of Outagamie County's population not counted as White in the 2010 census. Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin constitute the largest minority population in both counties, i.e., 3.3% in Outagamie County and 2.5% in Waupaca County. The Asian population constitutes 2.4% of the total population in Outagamie County.

When it comes to educational attainment, 9.3% of the system's residents haven't graduated from high school. However, 34.7% of Outagamie County residents have obtained an Associate degree or above, but only 24% of Waupaca County residents have obtained an Associate degree or above. Income for 8.9% of households in the system area is below the poverty level. The number of households below poverty level increased 81.1% from 2000 to 2010.

OWLS libraries provide a high volume of service to patrons living outside of the municipalities that operate the libraries. For example, OWLS libraries loaned slightly less than 1.5 million items to non-residents in 2011. Approximately 45% of Outagamie and Waupaca County residents live in jurisdictions without local libraries, i.e., 42% of Outagamie County residents and 56% of Waupaca County residents.

Several libraries are located near the boundaries of the system, and many more people come into the system area to use libraries than go out of the area. The geography of the system area affects the use of libraries in other ways. No library is more than 1-1/2 hours from any other library in the system, and several are located only minutes apart. Consequently, many residents of the system area use more than one library. A significant amount of crossover (inter-municipal) borrowing takes place in the system (c. 174,000 circulations in 2011).

OWLS is one of the smaller of the seventeen systems in Wisconsin. In 2011, OWLS ranked 11th in total population and 11th in state aid received. More than half of the systems include more counties than OWLS. When aggregate measures from OWLS and its member libraries are compared with those of other systems, predictably, the system often ranks near its population ranking (11th) on the raw data for many of the measures. Adjusting for population differences by using per capita comparisons, the system typically ranks higher than 11th.

Several of these measures are striking, particularly those related to the use of system libraries by non-residents. On a per capita basis, OWLS libraries lend more items to non-residents than do libraries in any other system, and OWLS libraries provide significantly more service to residents of other systems than libraries in any other system. In fact, OWLS libraries provide over 17% of all the intersystem non-resident circulation in the state. In 2011, OWLS libraries loaned 329,359 items to residents of other Wisconsin public library systems. This was nearly three times the statewide average for systems (112,131) and 41,437 more loans than were made by the second ranking system.

OWLS libraries circulate a high number of items, ranking 3rd in the number of items circulated per capita. The libraries continue to engage in high levels of resource sharing; the number of items loaned to and borrowed from other libraries is among the highest in the state. It is also clear that OWLS libraries experience a high volume of traffic, i.e., they have lots of people coming through their doors. The number of visits per capita is 6th highest among systems, and the number of programs attended per capita is 1st.

OWLS libraries continue to rank very low in the number of public computers connected to the Internet (17th per capita). Given that OWLS libraries rank 14th in the amount of square footage of library space and 10th in materials owned per capita, OWLS libraries probably don't have sufficient space to add more computers.

It is also interesting to note that while OWLS ranks 7th in total income per capita and 7th in total operating expenditures per capita, OWLS libraries rank 3rd in materials expenditures per capita. OWLS libraries spend a greater portion of their budgets for materials than do libraries in most other systems. This is consistent with the finding that while OWLS libraries rank 6th in staff FTEs, they only rank 9th in personnel expenditures.

Describe significant needs and problems that influenced the development of this and other system plans.

The development of the 2013 system plan builds upon previous planning activities and previous plans. While many of the system's needs and problems do not change dramatically from year to year, new issues regularly arise, and ongoing issues experience a shift in focus or urgency. A number of 2013 issues and priorities are described below.

Technology Services

OWLS Technology and Resource Sharing Plan: 2010-2013 and OWLSnet Plan: 2007-2010 contain extensive detail regarding technology service goals, objectives, and activities. Technology priorities for 2013 are summarized below:

- Continuing to implement Sierra, Innovative's next generation ILS software.
- Supporting member library use of technology. This priority includes providing training, supporting library PCs, assisting with the development of electronic content, enhancing InfoSoup to make it more helpful for library patrons, and implementing new services or software modules requested by member libraries when feasible.
- Maintaining and developing the OWLSnet network infrastructure in order to continue providing up-to-date technology-based services. This includes deploying appropriate network servers and telecommunications equipment and securing sufficient bandwidth to meet library needs.
- Monitoring the impact on member libraries and network infrastructure of changing media distribution systems from the sale of physical items to the licensing of streamed media, and working to acquire sufficient digital resources to meet growing patron demand.
- Completing an OWLSnet planning process. The current plan was scheduled to be evaluated and a new plan developed in 2011, but work on a new plan didn't start until 2012. The new plan is expected to be completed in early 2013.
- Updating the OWLS Resource Sharing and Technology plan by June 2013.
- Continuing to work with the Wisconsin Public Library Consortium (WPLC) to maintain an effective statewide digital media collection.

Resource Sharing and Delivery

In 2007, OWLS started contracting with Nicolet Federated Library System (NFLS) to serve as the interlibrary loan clearinghouse for OWLS libraries. A priority in 2012 was to evaluate this arrangement and consider changes that would improve interlibrary loan service to OWLS libraries. While this evaluation was started in 2012, it has not been completed due to the failure of NFLS to provide OWLS with requested information about the service NFLS provides to OWLS libraries. OWLS has little confidence that this information will be provided and may need to conclude the evaluation without knowing very much about current operations of the NFLS ILL department.

For the past ten years the volume of resource sharing among OWLSnet libraries grew at a rate of over 15% annually. Growth was slower in 2009 and 2010 after OWLSnet libraries agreed to reduce the maximum number of holds that may be placed by patrons, but the growth rate increased to nearly 15% in 2011. It is interesting to note that, based on year-to-date statistics, the volume of resource sharing is anticipated to grow by only 2% in 2012. It is also interesting to note that the imbalance between OWLS and NFLS libraries is growing. A priority for 2013 will be to continue to monitor the equity of resource sharing among member libraries and attempt to address any significant inequities.

Nonresident Service and Funding Inequities

Addressing county and intersystem funding inequities is a high priority for OWLS for two reasons. First, OWLS libraries provide a high volume of service to non-residents. In thirteen member libraries, over 50% of circulation is to non-residents. Non-resident circulation at member libraries ranges from 37% to 71% of total circulation. Second, OWLS libraries circulate more items to people living outside of the system area than do the libraries in any other system. It is difficult to address equity issues with jurisdictions outside of the system, especially with counties operating consolidated public libraries because they are not required to compensate libraries in adjacent counties (regardless of the levels of service their residents receive).

In 2009, new county library service plans were developed that call for Outagamie and Waupaca Counties to achieve 100% funding of their respective funding formulas by the end of the period covered by the plans, i.e., 2014. 2012 funding levels in Outagamie and Waupaca Counties are at 92% and 94%, respectively. It is hoped that the counties will increase their funding levels to 96% and 97% in 2013. Because county library reimbursements are exempt from county levy limits, it is possible that both counties will be able to achieve their goals of providing 100% funding in 2014.

While some progress has been made toward addressing intersystem equity concerns, some new concerns have emerged. In late 2004, OWLS renegotiated its intersystem on-site borrowing agreement with NFLS. Beginning in 2005, NFLS started paying OWLS for the imbalance in service that occurs between the two systems, primarily as a result of the Marion and Clintonville libraries providing high levels of service to Shawano County residents. This year for the first time, Brown County Library billed Outagamie County for service provided to Outagamie residents in 2011. This is unfortunate because Outagamie County libraries actually provide slightly more service to Brown County residents and because Brown County isn't compelled to reimburse Outagamie libraries for the service they provide. Consequently, Brown County Library has created an inequity that didn't exist previously, and Outagamie libraries are likely to discontinue service to Brown County residents.

Calumet County continues to do a commendable job of compensating OWLS libraries for providing service to residents of the County under the intersystem agreement between OWLS and the Manitowoc Calumet Library System, and Waushara County began reimbursing Waupaca County libraries in 2011. Another problem area is between Portage County and Waupaca County. The Waupaca Area Public Library provides a significant level of service to Portage County residents, but because Portage County operates a consolidated county library they are not required to pay for the service they receive. Consequently, the Waupaca library may decide to discontinue service to Portage County residents.

OWLS will continue to monitor this situation and work with member libraries and adjacent library systems to determine the most effective methods for achieving equity in library services between systems, counties, and libraries.

Future of Wisconsin Library Systems

The next biennial state budget will be crucial for the future of Wisconsin's public library systems. Aid to public library systems was cut by 10% in 2011, and state funding has never equaled the statutory funding level. Many library systems have been struggling for several years and have had to cut services to their members. The fact that 100% of system aids comes from the Universal Service Fund, rather than general purpose revenue (GRP), places system aids in further jeopardy because some officials and industry groups don't believe this is an appropriate use of the Fund.

There is interest within the library community in examining statutory system requirements. While the Department of Public Instruction has elected not to create a legislative task force at this time, it's likely that the system and resource library directors group will begin investigating possible changes to system law. It is possible that future changes in system services or structure could result from this process. Also, in-part because of recent retirements and in-part because of economic conditions, some systems have begun investigating mergers with neighboring systems. OWLS will participate as appropriate in the examination of system law and investigations of system consolidations.

Financial Position

While the system's financial position appears to be secure for 2012 and 2013, OWLS could face significant challenges in the future. If funding to public library systems should remain flat or be cut again in the next state budget, OWLS would need to make significant cuts to its programs and services. In 2013, over half of OWLS operating budget will come from fees paid for services by libraries. Because OWLS budget is so dependent on fees, the ability to continue current service levels will be threatened if local budget cuts affect the ability of member libraries to pay their fees.

No major reductions in services are planned for 2013. The emphasis will be on continuing to offer a strong program of services to member libraries as efficiently and effectively as possible. The system will continue to look for ways to streamline service delivery and reduce costs, and it will continue to monitor conditions and be prepared to respond rapidly should changes be necessary.

Describe the planning environment and process under which this and other system plans were developed. (List additional system planning documents with the period covered and attach any planning documents which have not previously been provided to the division.)

This year's plan reflects input from a variety of sources. The OWLS professional staff met throughout the year to discuss issues important to the future of the system. The professional staff also met individually with staff from Appleton Public Library, Nicolet Federated Library System, and member libraries on many occasions. The OWLS Director met with his counterparts at Appleton Public Library and NFLS.

OWLS conducted one meeting with member library directors in 2012 (August 24) that was designed to learn more about member library activities and issues. Brown Bag Lunch Meetings are held regularly to give OWLS children's librarians an opportunity to share with each other and with system representatives. The Administrative Advisory Committee of OWLSnet has met four times, and two more meetings will be held before the end of the year. Input from the directors, children's librarians, and AAC meetings was considered in the development of the plan.

The 2013 plan has also been shaped by technology planning that occurred previously. In June 2010, OWLS adopted a new technology plan, OWLS Technology and Resource Sharing Plan: 2010-2013. In July 2007 an OWLSnet Plan: 2007-2010 was adopted, and in 2012 a process to create a new OWLSnet plan was started.

Perhaps most importantly, the OWLS Board met monthly, holding a number of discussions and taking a variety of actions that contributed to the development of this plan. Finally, the draft Plan was distributed to member library directors and Fox Valley Library Council member libraries for their comments, and their comments were incorporated into the Plan before adoption by the OWLS Board.
